e B _ ____, P e e 1865-1965

London Mathematical Society

Susan Oakes Alan Pears Adrian Rice

the a soul har a a deline man TA I have

e B — P e e

1865-1965

energetic and confident heyday of Victorian Britain. Although several learned societies pre-date it, the LMS can claim to have led the way in a number of respects, firstly, in the rigorous reviewing standards it set from the outset, with two independent reviewers being appointed for each paper submitted to the Proceedings; and being appointed for each paper submitted to the Proceedings; and progressive for its day.

**Grand C.T. **Market S.** Chapman A.Diaon G. N. Walton This volume, which contains over eighty photographs.

**J. Sepantrates in the first Life years of the Secrety's existence and traces its evolution through its Presidents and De Morgan Medallists each of whom was a pre-eminent mathematician of his of her day. Through them we learn which branches of the